Paper 1 Explorations in creative reading and writing

Mark scheme

June 2022

Version: 1.0 Final

J U N 2 2 8 7 0 0 / 1 / M S

Mark schemes are prepared by the Lead Assessment Writer and considered, together with the relevant questions, by a panel of subject teachers. This mark scheme includes any amendments made at the standardisation events which all associates participate in and is the scheme which was used by them in this examination. The standardisation process ensures that the mark scheme covers the students' responses to questions and that every associate understands and applies it in the same correct way. As preparation for standardisation each associate analyses a number of students' scripts. Alternative answers not already covered by the mark scheme are discussed and legislated for. If, after the standardisation process, associates encounter unusual answers which have not been raised they are required to refer these to the Lead Examiner.

It must be stressed that a mark scheme is a working document, in many cases further developed and expanded on the basis of students' reactions to a particular paper. Assumptions about future mark schemes on the basis of one year's document should be avoided; whilst the guiding principles of assessment remain constant, details will change, depending on the content of a particular examination paper.

Introduction

The information provided for each question is intended to be a guide to the kind of answers anticipated and is neither exhaustive nor prescriptive. All appropriate responses should be given credit.

Level of response marking instructions

Level of response mark schemes for GCSE English Language are broken down into four levels (where appropriate). In the first column each level is identified with one or two key words that represent the differences in the skills then described. These key words show the progression from Level 1 to 4 and are:

Level 4	Perceptive, detailed
Level 3	Clear, relevant
Level 2	Some, attempts
Level 1	Simple, limited.

This is followed in the second column by a description of the different qualities required in the student's answer for that level. These are called the skills descriptors. In order to reach a given level, a student must fulfil one or more of the skills descriptors for that level.

The third column of the mark scheme is the Indicative Standard. This is an important feature of the mark scheme for GCSE English Language. It provides exemplification of the skills descriptors at each level and offers a small number of different comments at the required standard to give an indication of the quality of response that is typical for that level. It shows the progression from Level 1 to 4.

The Indicative Standard is not intended to be a model answer nor a complete response, and it does not exemplify required content. Students may reach a given level by making one or more comments of the quality demonstrated by the Indicative Standard and do not have to meet all the skill descriptors at that level.

The standardising scripts will further exemplify each of the levels. You must refer to the standardising material throughout your marking.

Step 1 Annotate the response

When marking a response you should first read through the student's answer and annotate each section using the comments from the statement bank to show the qualities that are being demonstrated, as instructed during standardising. You can then award a level and a mark.

Step 2 Determine a level

Start at the lowest level of the mark scheme and use it as a ladder to see whether the answer meets the descriptors for that level. The descriptors for the level indicate the different qualities that might be seen in the student's answer for that level. If it meets the lowest level then go to the next one and decide if it meets this level, and so on, until you have a match between the level descriptor and the answer. With practice and familiarity you will find that for better answers you will be able to quickly skip through the lower levels of the mark scheme.

The Indicative Standard column in the mark scheme will help you determine the correct level. Remember, students may reach a given level by making one or more comments of the quality demonstrated by the Indicative Standard and do not have to meet all the skill descriptors at that level. It is not the number of references, but the quality of the comments that will determine the level. The annotation you added to the script at Step 1 will help you determine the correct level.

Step 3 Determine a mark

Once you have assigned a level you need to decide on the mark. This requires you to fine tune within the level to see how well each of the skills descriptors for that level has been met. A student only has to meet a skills descriptor at a given level once to be awarded that level. Since responses rarely match a level in all respects, you need to balance out the range of skills achieved and allow strong performance in some aspects to compensate for other skills that may be only partially fulfilled. Again, the annotation added at Step 1 will help you determine the mark.

Reference to the standardising scripts throughout the marking period is essential. This will help you apply the level descriptors accurately and consistently. There will usually be an answer in the standardising materials which will correspond with each level of the mark scheme. This answer will have been awarded a mark by the Lead Examiner. You can compare the student's answer with the example to determine if it is the same standard, better or worse than the example. You can then use this to allocate a mark for the answer based on the Lead Examiner's mark on the example.

You may well need to read back through the answer as you apply the mark scheme to clarify points and assure yourself that the level and the mark are appropriate.

An answer which contains nothing of relevance to the question must be awarded no marks.

Advice

In fairness to students, all examiners must use the same marking methods. The following advice may seem obvious, but all examiners must follow it closely.

1. Refer constantly to the mark scheme and standardising scripts throughout the marking period.
2. Always credit accurate, relevant and appropriate responses that are not necessarily covered by the mark scheme or the standardising scripts.
3. Use the full range of marks. Do not hesitate to give full marks if the response merits it.
4. Remember the key to accurate and fair marking is consistency.
5. If you have any doubt about how to allocate marks to a response, consult your Team Leader.

0 1 Read again the first part of the source, from lines 1 to 6.

List four things about the brush house and what is happening in this part of the source.

[4 marks]

Give 1 mark for each point about the brush house or what is happening:

- responses must be drawn only from lines 1–6 of the text
- responses must relate to the brush house and what is happening
- responses must show some evidence of selection
- responses can be quotations or paraphrase
- responses can be a single word; full sentences are not required.

Note: The indicative content must not be treated as exhaustive, and reference must be made to the selected section of the text.

AO1	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Identify and interpret explicit and implicit information and ideas • Select and synthesise evidence from different texts

Indicative content; students may include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the sun is warming the house – 1 mark • the sun is breaking through the house crevices in long streaks – 2 marks • the house was warm – 1 mark • the house has crevices – 1 mark • sunlight broke into the house – 1 mark • a streak fell on the bed-box – 2 marks • the bed-box is hanging – 1 mark • the bed-box is hanging from the ceiling – 2 marks • there is a hanging bed-box – 2 marks • the bed-box is hanging on ropes – 2 marks • there is a hanging bed-box – 2 marks • there is a bed-box that is hanging from the roof support – 3 marks • baby Coyotito is in a hanging bed-box – 2 marks • there is a tiny movement near the hanging box – 4 marks • there is a scorpion in the room – 1 mark • the scorpion is moving slowly – 2 marks • the scorpion's stinging tail is out – 1 mark • a scorpion is moving down the rope – 2 mark • the scorpion has its tail out behind him – 2 marks • there was a tiny movement – 2 marks • the scorpion makes a tiny movement – 2 marks • it was a tiny movement that drew their eyes towards the hanging box – 5 marks • Kino and Juana froze in their position – 1 mark • Kino froze – 1 mark • Juana froze – 1 mark

REJECT:

- the baby moved in a tiny movement
- Kino and Juana are freezing

Ask yourself the following questions:

- Does it tell you something about the brush house or what is happening?
- Is it from the correct section of the text?
- Is it true/accurate?
- If there is no subject in the response and you precede the response with 'It is/There is/are...', does it make sense?

0 2 Look in detail at this extract, from lines 7 to 17 of the source.

How does the writer use language here to describe the conflict between Kino and the scorpion?

You could include the writer's choice of:

- words and phrases
- language features and techniques
- sentence forms.

Explain, comment on and analyse how writers use language and structure to achieve effects and influence readers, using relevant subject terminology to support their views

This is illustrated by 'In his mind a new song had come, the Song of Evil... and underneath, the Song of the Family cried plaintively'. Here, by using this juxtaposition between good and evil, the writer portrays the Family threatened by the 'savage, secret, dangerous melody'. This triplet of adjectives suggests a primitive, covert threat, embodied in the scorpion, forcing Kino to react swiftly and decisively to protect his family.

Note: If a student writes only about language outside of the given lines, the response should be placed in either Level 1 or Level 2, according to the quality of what is written.

AO2 content may include the effect of language features such as:

- extended metaphor: of the 'Song of Evil' and the 'Song of the Family' presenting contrast between good and evil.
- personification: 'breath whistled' suggesting the loudness and autonomy of his breath.
- adverbs: 'delicately', 'quietly', 'noiselessly' and 'smoothly', suggesting Kino's exceptional focus on the scorpion without betraying his presence.
- short simple sentence: eg, 'Kino stood perfectly still', emphasising his self-control and composure.
- adjectives: eg 'startled' indicates the surprise of the initial shock for Kino.
- repetition: eg 'smoothly' reinforces his controlled behavior.

0 3

You now need to think about the whole of the source.

The text is from the beginning of a novel.

How has the writer structured the text to interest you as a reader?

You could write about:

- what the writer focuses your attention on at the beginning of the source
- how and why the writer changes this focus as the source develops
- any other structural features that interest you.

[8 marks]

AO2

Explain, comment on and analyse how writers use language and structure to achieve effects and influence readers, using relevant subject terminology to support their views

This question assesses how the writer has structured a text. Structural features can be: at a whole text level eg. beginnings/endings/perspective shifts; at a paragraph level eg. topic change/aspects of cohesion; and at a sentence level when judged to contribute to whole structure.

Level	Skills Descriptors	Indicative Standard
Level 4 Perceptive, detailed analysis 7–8 marks	Shows detailed and perceptive understanding of structural features: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Analyses the effects of the writer’s choices of structural features • Selects a judicious range of examples • Makes sophisticated and accurate use of subject terminology 	This indicative standard is not a model answer, nor a complete response. Nor does it seek to exemplify any particular content. Rather, it is an indication of the standard for the level. The extract begins with the introduction of a positive image of a calm and sunny setting in what initially appears to be a happy family home. However, the sun is also illuminating the scorpion, causing a shift in perspective that is now focused on the threat facing Kino’s child. This instantly creates tension and fear as the scorpion advances. The ‘tiny movement’ is mirrored by Kino who, ‘glided quietly’. Both are poised and the text switches quickly between them, ‘It stopped’ and ‘Kino stood perfectly still’. Here, the writer holds the reader in the tension. The scorpion’s sting delivers the threat of death to baby Coyotito and this fast-paced, fear-induced action reveals how quickly the parents react.

Level 3 Clear, relevant explanation 5–6 marks	Shows clear understanding of structural features: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Explains clearly the effects of the writer's choices of structural features Selects a range of relevant examples Makes clear and accurate use of subject terminology 	The writer begins the text by introducing the setting by describing the family home lit by sunlight. This is followed by a shift of perspective by bringing the sun from outside to the inside of the house, creating a sense of calm. However, when the writer then introduces the scorpion it creates tension and the reader wonders what might be in store for Kino's family. Now the calmness changes to panic. The scorpion stings baby Coyotito, after which the pace of the action increases, showing how fast Kino and Juana act to save their baby, and the speed of their reaction highlights their fear.
Level 2 Some understanding and comment 3–4 marks	Shows some understanding of structural features: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Attempts to comment on the effect of structural features Selects some appropriate examples Makes some use of subject terminology, mainly appropriately 	At the beginning of the text, the writer introduces the setting, followed by a different perspective by the sun coming in to the house. Then the reader is made aware of the danger and worries about what is going to happen to baby Coyotito. After the baby is stung by the scorpion, the pace of the events gets faster, when Kino and Juana act fast to save their baby, suggesting to the reader that their baby is important to them.
Level 1 Simple, limited comment 1–2 marks	Shows simple awareness of structural features: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Offers simple comment on the effect of structure Selects simple references or examples Makes simple use of subject terminology, not always appropriately 	At the beginning, the writer shows a family home, but then changes focus to the baby getting stung. In the end, events speed up, making the reader feel sorry for the parents.
Level 0 No marks	Nothing to reward

AO2 content may include the effect of ideas such as:

- Perspective shift: the opening of happy, calm beginning accentuates the 'evil' that enters the house, and the imminent threat it is about to pose.
- Pace change: relaxed beginning which builds, fast-paced, to tension and intensity.
- Focus shift between Kino's reaction at the beginning to Juana as a leader in the second half of the text.
- Introduction of problem: the scorpion stinging baby Coyotito in middle of the text, symbolic of intrusion of evil into the family and evoking empathy.
- Zooming in on details: vivid description/imagery of the scorpion and Juana sucking out the poison
- Dialogue: showing interaction between the parents, as they deal with the tragedy as a family unit.
- Cliff-hanger ending leaving the reader with questions and feeling concerned about baby Coyotito.

0 4 Focus this part of your answer on the second part of the source, from line 19 to the end.

A student said, “In this part of the story, Juana’s reaction to the danger facing their baby is different to Kino’s. The writer shows that Kino is unhelpful, and it is Juana who tries to save the baby’s life.”

To what extent do you agree?

In your response, you could:

- consider Juana’s and Kino’s reactions to the danger facing their baby
- evaluate how the writer presents Juana’s and Kino’s different reactions
- support your response with references to the text.

[20 marks]

AO4 Evaluate texts critically and support this with appropriate textual references
Level	Skills Descriptors	Indicative Standard
Level 4 Perceptive, detailed evaluation 16–20 marks	Shows perceptive and detailed evaluation : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Develops a convincing and critical response to the focus of the statement • Shows perceptive understanding of writer’s methods • Selects a range of judicious textual detail • Evaluates critically and in detail the effect(s) on the reader 	This indicative standard is not a model answer, nor a complete response. Nor does it seek to exemplify any particular content. Rather, it is an indication of the standard for the level. Kino’s instinctive reaction to eliminate the threat by killing the scorpion is no less effective than Juana’s, whose focus is on keeping the baby alive. Juana’s reaction to save her baby reveals her maternal instinct for the child that is ‘nearly everything’ in her world. The writer creates contrast between the parents’ protective instincts by employing animal imagery to portray their reactions. Although initially described as ‘patient’ and ‘fragile’, the writer uses a simile to present Juana’s eyes ‘as cold as the eyes of a lioness’, emphasising her controlled behaviour and determination to protect the child. The writer shows Kino’s almost animalistic anger at the scorpion as the source of evil, with the use of verbs like ‘snarling’ and ‘bared’. This imagery reveals Kino as an aggressive hunter, stalking the scorpion until he destroys it, whereas Juana’s primal impulse is to protect her child.

Level 3 Clear, relevant evaluation 11–15 marks	Shows clear and relevant evaluation: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Makes a clear and relevant response to the focus of the statement • Shows clear understanding of writer's methods • Selects a range of relevant textual references • Evaluates clearly the effect(s) on the reader 	The writer presents both parents reacting equally quickly to the threat to their baby, and therefore I disagree that Kino is unhelpful. Each parent makes a different but equally important contribution, with Kino removing the threat of the scorpion forever and Juana doing all she can to save her child. The writer uses animal imagery, 'bared', 'fury flared' and 'snarling', describing Kino's reaction to the threat as that of a wild animal. Juana, on the other hand, is compared to a lioness in 'her eyes as cold as the eyes of a lioness', emphasising her control and taking charge of the situation. We imagine Juana as cool and collected as a lioness before she pounces into action, suggesting she will not stop until the baby is helped. Even though they prioritise different things, both Kino and Juana show a natural instinct to save their baby.
Level 2 Some, evaluation 6–10 marks	Shows some attempts at evaluation: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Makes some response to the focus of the statement • Shows some understanding of writer's methods • Selects some appropriate textual reference(s) • Makes some evaluative comment(s) on effect(s) on the reader 	I disagree that Kino is 'unhelpful' in his reaction to the threat to the baby. Juana seems to be better at dealing with it than Kino. The writer describes Kino with words like 'snarling' and 'bared' to show that he is like an animal trying to kill the scorpion. The writer also describes Juana as a lioness with a simile 'her eyes as cold as the eyes of a lioness', showing the reader that the parents try to protect their baby. Kino and Juana both have to act fast, but in different ways.
Level 1 Simple, limited comment 1–5 marks	Shows simple, limited evaluation: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Makes a simple, limited response to the focus of the statement • Shows limited understanding of writer's methods • Selects simple, limited textual reference(s) • Makes simple, limited evaluative comment(s) on effect(s) on reader 	I do not agree that Kino is 'unhelpful' because he kills the scorpion. But Juana saves the baby by sucking the poison, so they are different. Kino and Juana are described using words like 'snarling', 'bared' and 'lioness'. This tells us that they both want to save the baby.

Note: Reference to the writer's methods may be implicit without specific mention of the writer.

Similarly, the evaluative 'I do/I don't agree' may be implicit.

In both these cases credit should be given according to the quality of what is written.

AO4 content may include the evaluation of ideas such as:

- contrast between effectiveness of Kino's and Juana's reactions; perhaps gender stereotypes of Kino as 'the protector' father, and Juana as 'the nurturing' mother.
- description of Juana as having 'iron' in her, implying her incredible strength of character and determination, which amaze Kino.
- Juana's character described as usually 'obedient' 'respectful' 'cheerful' and 'patient', indicating her multifaceted character, which adapts to the situation.
- the final line, 'Kino followed her' (simple sentence), possibly suggesting Juana as leading the situation, and Kino trusting her decision without question.
- Kino successfully kills the scorpion.
- Juana's persistence and determination to get the poison out of her baby, exemplified by 'sucked hard and spat and sucked again' (alliteration).
- the interaction between Kino and Juana, highlighted by the dialogue "Go to get the doctor."
